1. This is an application for grant of bail. The applicant is shown as an accused in C.R.No.I-34/2006 registered by the APMC police station, New Bombay for alleged offence under Section 376 of IPC. According to the medical evidence the prosecutrix Malu is a minor. Her statement indicates that she was raped by the present applicant on 10.2.2006 in her aunt's house. She returned to her house and disclosed this fact to her mother on 12.2.2006. This fact is corroborated by the mother whose statement has been recorded. The statement of the aunt is also corroborative of the fact that the prosecutrix had come to her house in the morning. The medical examination indicates that hymen was found torn. The medical examination is conducted on 13.2.2006. At present there is no reason for a young child to involve the present applicant. The possibility of rape cannot be ruled out. There is some corroboration to the statement given by the minor girl. In the circumstances, not a fit case for grant of bail. Rejected.
